NINTH DAY OF BATTLE

Russians and Japs Still Struggling for the Mastery.

FORMER REPORTED MOVING FORWARD

Japanese Compelled to Retreat Along the Whole Line, After Terrible Resistance—Siege Guns Brought Up and the Fighting Continued—Enormous Losses on Both Sides.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 18.—The situation at the front as this date may be described as follows: General Kuroptakin has slightly advanced his center, reoccupying Shakhe, south of the Shakhe river. Directly behind him at a distance of nine miles lies the Hun river, and across the bridges spanning this stream the Russians must retire in case they retreat on Mukden. General Kuroptakin must continue to firmly hold his center and right flank in order to prevent the Japanese getting possession of the Hun river bridges. Thus he will cover the withdrawal of his apparently beaten wing. There is still considerable uncertainty as to the disposition of this last column. Certainly it has not returned to Mukden; whether it is again advancing after its first withdrawal is not known. It is no longer a question of a Russian Sedan; though all hope of retrieving Puto Arthur must apparently be abandoned. Little hope is expressed that Kuroptakin will be able to continue to advance.

The news is more reassuring from the Russian standpoint. The situation is still regarded as being critical, but General Kuroptakin is apparently holding the Japanese firmly on his center and right wing, even having recrossed the Shakhe river; and while there are rumors of extensive Japanese flankings movements both on the east and on the west, there is no evidence that they are actually occurring.

General Sakharoff telegraphs the Russians recaptured Lone Tree Hill, south of Shakhe, and captured 11 Japanese and one quick-drier. Sixty Thousand Fall.

Tokyo, Oct. 17.—There is a strong appeal for peace in the appalling track day which is now under enactment in Manchuria. Both armies have fought ferociously for a week and desperate fighting still continues.

The preliminary reports indicate that the death roll will be largely increased before the final shot is fired. The coal miners of both sides have been either killed or wounded, the larger portion of the being Russians, since the armies of the two belligerents closed in combat.

Even the Japanese, to whom the great victory is of paramount importance, seem to be shocked by the slaughter of their enemies. The Japanese people are receiving the news from the field of battle calmly, and there can be heard no shouts in the streets proclaiming the victory of their nation. Few flags are displayed. Probably later on there will be a recession with the consequent jolting, but there are here many expressions of opinion that an immediate cessation of any kind should be had.

General Worth Dead.

New York, Oct. 17.—William Scott Worth, brigadier general, United States army, retired, is dead at the home of his nephew, Dr. John T. Sprague, of Clinton, Staten Island. His death followed a long illness. General Worth was the only son of Major General William J. Worth. He served through the war of the rebellion, in several Indian campaigns and in Cuba. In 1898 he was commissioned brigadier general, and a month later he was retired on account of disabling wounds.

Charge Against Missionaries.

Washington, Oct. 18.—Ernest Lyon, American minister to Liberia, has made a report to the state department on Liberia, the feature of which is a severe criticism of the missionaries residing in the little republic. Mr. Lyon is himself an ordained clergyman. These criticisms touches the moral character of the missionaries who are also accused of being unduly arbitrary at the expense of the natives whom they are sent to help.

Schooners Driven Ashore.

St. John's, N. F., Oct. 18.—The gale of Saturday and Sunday created havoc along the Newfoundland coast. Eleven schooners so far have been reported ashore, and much fishing property along the seaboard has also been destroyed. The steamer Virginia Lake at that place, entailing a loss of $40,000, with $30,000 insurance. The occupants of the vessel were unharmed.

Declined a Bishopric.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 18.—The battle royal put to sea at 1 a.m. During the day the squab was passed Barnholm Island in two sections. It comprised a total of six battleships, 11 cruisers and numerous smaller craft, and was going northeast.

Fatal Fire in a Flat.

New York, Oct. 17.—Four persons were suffocated and 15 were overcome by smoke in a fire which gutted a five-story brick double tenement house at 15 Moore street, Williamsburg. Two of the injured, a boy and a girl, probably will die. Incendiary is suspected. The dead are: Bertha Glass, 29; Henry Glass, 2; Sam Rubenowitz, 4; and Schneewitz, 6. The fire originated in the basement and ran up a dumb waiter shaft, causing the crowded dials to fill rapidly with smoke. The flames spread through the flats on the fourth and fifth floors, and escape for the persons asleep there was cut off.

Six Perish in Incendiary Fire.

New York, Oct. 18.—Six lives were lost, nearly a score of persons were injured and the lives of more than 100 others were endangered by a tenement house fire in the Williamsburg section of Brooklyn. With one exception, all the dead are children. Incendiaries are thought to have been responsible for the fatal fire and this theory is strengthened by the fact that while the firemen were at work on the fire, the alarm was turned in for two other fires in the immediate neighborhood.

Boy Crushed.

Hamilton, Oct. 17.—Louis Thompson, 10, was instantly killed by G. H. & D. northbound passenger train No. 44 at Lindenwald crossing. The boy was waving his hand to his father and little sister unaware of the fast approaching train.

INSPECTORS DROPPED

As a Result of the Steamer Slocum Investigation.

Washington, Oct. 17.—In connection with the finding of the commission appointed last June to investigate the steamer Slocum disaster in East River, and whose report has just been made public, President Roosevelt, to whom the report was submitted, has written a letter to Secretary Victor H. Metcalf of the department of commerce and labor, briefly summarizing the report and directing him to carry into effect the recommendations of the committee. He also directs that Robert S. Roddey, supervising inspector of the Second district steamboat inspection service, and James A. Dumont and Thomas H. Barrett, local inspectors in charge of the port of New York, be discharged from the service, the commission holding them directly responsible for the laxity of the steamboat inspection, to which the Slocum disaster was directly attributable.

Reduction Anticipated.

Chicago, Oct. 17.—Steel workers employed in the rail and sheet departments of the Illinois Steel company's plant at South Chicago have been told that when the present agreement expires Jan. 1 next it will not be renewed. The workmen understand this to mean that they will be asked to accept the same reduction in wages and the same lengthening of hours as were recently enforced in the company's plant at Joliet. The Joliet steel workers accepted a cut of 15 to 45 per cent in wages and their work day was lengthened about two hours. Nearly 4,000 men will be affected at South Chicago.

Fire On Receiving Ship.

New York, Oct. 18.—Fire was detected on the United States receiving ship Hancock at the New York navy yard. A fireman had occasion to open a watertight compartment leading to a coal bunker, when he found that the place was filled with smoke. In spite of the utmost exertions it was several hours before the seat of the flames could be reached. The Hancock is the most important receiving ship in the navy, usually having a thousand sailors and newly enlisted men aboard awaiting assignment. The cause of the flame is shrouded in mystery. No serious damage was done.

Accept a Reduction.

Knoxville, Tenn., Oct. 15.—The miners of district No. 19 decided by a vote of 35 to 29 to accept the 7 per cent reduction offered by the operators. This scale will not apply to the Coal Creek section, the operators of which district withdrew from the conference of miners and operators previously held before action was taken on the 7 per cent reduction. The Coal Creek operators expect to hold out for a reduction of 15 per cent. There are about 6,000 union men in the district.

Lydia looked up sharply and fixed a steady glance on the face of her friend. "You are actually in love with him?" she said. "What right?" She suddenly covered her face. "Oh, don't be a goose!" Kitty said. "We've got work to do before we go to bed. Your mother and Mrs. Truett are now rolling a delightful mass of gossip under their tongues. I can hear their mumbleting voices. I have an idea. I can't sleep until I have told their minds of the secret that George Buckley was hiding in the lawn to catch sight of you. That's the sort of thing women love to dramatize. Well, I'll do it, and then we'll go to bed."

Descending the stairs and entering the drawing room a moment later, Kitty overheard Mrs. Cranston saying: "Yes, that accounts for it. He was most invited and was simply jealous and desperate over not seeing her, so he stole into the grounds, and."

"Well, my, what an imagination you have, Mrs. Cranston!" Kitty laughed heartily. "But you are away off. Mr. Buckley explained it to Lydia. He was going to have nothing to do with a stag party down the street. He sat in the carriage pass and noticed the wheel coming off. He called out. I thought I heard someone—but could not attract the attention of the driver. He tried to catch up, but could not do so until he was in the grounds, then the wheel came off, and we were dinging about in each other's laps."

"Oh!" Mrs. Cranston exclaimed disapprovingly.

"Well, that does seem more reasonable," said Mrs. Dimbleby. "I can hardly imagine layers, this day and time, doing the other thing. It's rather too story—too romantic, don't you think?"

"Well, I really don't know what we are going to do with Lydia," sighed Mrs. Cranston. "She didn't seem to herself herself a bit tonight. Just think of it! Why, I could hear whispering all over the rooms. 'Where is she?' 'Is that her?' My, isn't she pretty! They say that necklace has been in her family for 200 years. Have you been introduced?" And yet the object of it all sat on a divan half the evening talking to a married Presbyterian minister, who didn't even have on his evening suit!"

"Really, I am proud of her," declared Mrs. Dimbleby. "She's just a pure, sweet, innocent girl, and everybody knew it by her modest, shrinking manner. That's why she created such a furor, and why Governor Telfair is such a fool about her. When she declined to go out to supper with him and in such a sweet, natural way suggested that he take you instead, I was afraid he might be offended, but he took it beautifully, and well. It did look better. She wasn't going to put herself in such a conspicuous position if she could avoid it, and, on the whole, I think she was right."

"Well, I'm going to bed," said Kitty. "You two girls can stay off the roof and chuckle all night if you like, but that's all."

"She's an unusual creature," said Mrs. Dimbleby, when Kitty had left them. "I wish you'd share her with me."

"She's that way all the time," said Mrs. Cranston. "Almost too independent to be a favorite with men, but women adore her. She's very exacting, wants men to be more perfect than they are. I really think she admires George Buckley, and she won't help him with Lydia in return."

When Kitty returned to Lydia she found her in bed, the gas burning low, her face to the wall. Lydia doffed modestly and got into bed. She lay still for a moment, then she said suddenly:

"Lie here, are you well, I do hate to see you crying!"

There was no response. Lydia was quiet for several minutes, then she rose. "In the excitement of it all," she said, "I forgot to say my prayers. I'd better get it done. Those two women fell into my trap with a dull thud, and just now, I'll tell you about it in the morning."

Lydia still made no sound nor movement to indicate that she was awake, but Kitty knew she was. Kitty knelt at the bedside for several minutes, then she rose, with a sigh, and got back under the covers. "If it will do you any good," she said, "I'll tell you I've been thinking about this thing. I don't believe that pays the least attention to people who pay about wet weather in dry season or dry weather in wet, but somehow I believe he listens when you tell his attention in real downright earnest suffering. I told him I was at the end of my rope and that he had to try to help you and George out of the mess you are in. You are both too good and sweet and noble to!" There was a sudden catch in Lydia's voice, and a sob struggled into her throat and shook her from head to foot.

"Now, what's the matter with you?" Lydia suddenly exclaimed, and she turned over and put her arms about her friend. "I don't, don't, Kitty!" They cried silently together until they fell asleep.

CHAPTER XXVIII.

The next morning, after his return from Atlanta, George met Baisden Truett at the ware house.

"Brought your mother in with me?" he said. "I left 'em up at the postoffice ready a letter. Shall be down directly. I missed you at the reunion, but I heard you was on hand. Lord, I missed the sidewalk, they tell me! I met some old friends that kept me full to the neck through the whole business. I couldn't root my lungs."

"That's one way to celebrate," George said, with a smile, as Truett was turning away.

A few minutes later Mrs. Buckley lavin' woman that wants to do her duty according to her lights, but that's a sight agin you boys, an' that's no with' round it. A heap of people have

FREIGHT CREW KILLED.
Cause of Disastrous Collision on Mo. & San Pacific Railroad.

Waukesha, Mo., Oct. 11.—Twenty-four persons were killed and 40 injured by the collision of Missouri Pacific trains three miles east of Waukesha. The trains were the second section of passenger train No. 23, which left Wichita, Kan., for St. Louis, and an extra freight train. The dead are in undertaking rooms in this city, and most of the wounded are in the railroad hospital in Sedalia, Mo.

The victims all hailed from points in southeast Kansas and southwest Missouri, and were bound for the world's fair. The train is reported to have been responsible for the disaster, the members mistaking a regular train for the second section. The freight pulled out on the main track and came into collision a few moments later with the passenger train.

Government Crop Report.

Washington, Oct. 11.—The monthly report of the chief of the bureau of statistics of the department of agriculture will show the condition of corn on Oct. 1 to have been 85.9, as compared with 80.8 on Oct. 1, 1902, and a 10-year average of 78.3. The preliminary estimate of the average yield per acre of spring wheat is 12.7 bushels, subject to revision when the final estimate is made. The average quality of spring wheat is 75.7, as compared with 75.5 in 1902 and 87.7 in 1903. The preliminary returns indicate an acre crop of about $88,500,000 bushels, or an average of 22.1 bushels per acre, as compared with 28.1 bushels as finally estimated in 1902, 31.5 in 1902, and a 10-year average of 28.2. The average for quality is 91.1, against 79.9 in 1902 and 85.7 in 1902.

Delaware Republicans Agree.

Wilmington, Del., Oct. 11.—After numerous conferences, continuing over a period of several weeks, the state committees of the regular Republicans and the Union or Addicks Republicans came to an agreement on one state and congressional ticket for the Republican party in Delaware. Preston Lee, of this city, who is affiliated with the anti-Addicks or regular Republican faction, was agreed on as secretary of state, if elected, any one of three men whose names the Union Republicans will present. The two committees will meet on Wednesday morning to select the candidates for the remainder of the ticket.

Lou Dillon's Fast Mile.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 11.—Lou Dillon, the world's champion trotting mare, owned by C. K. G. Billings, broke all work-out records for trotting horses by circling the course at the Memphis driving park in 2:01 1/2. Millard Saunders, her trainer, drove the mare. She was driven by a runner derived by Doc Taylor. The fractional time: First quarter, 33; half mile, 1:00; three-quarters, 1:29 1/2; mile, 2:01 1/2. The former work-out record of 2:02 was held by Lou Dillon, established at Cleveland Sept. 28 of this year. No wind shield was used.

Costly Livery Fire.

Washington, Oct. 10.—Fire on the upper floors of William F. and B. F. Dowdney's livery stable caused a loss of about $10,000. Some of the finest carriages owned in Washington, many of them belonging to senators, members of the diplomatic corps and wealthy Washingtonians, stored in the building, were burned. The fire started from defective electric light wiring. Ruth Woodell, the Philadelphia-based pitcher, turned volunteer fireman and with his handkerchief tied across his mouth entered the burning building with the firemen.

Investigating Sudden Deaths.

New York, Oct. 10.—Fifteen deaths within eight days in the neighborhood known as Stryker's Farms, on the West Side, have started an investigation by the police and coroner's office. Coroner Schieber says the deaths were caused by impure liquors. All the victims knew one another, and it is curious circumstance that the men had attended their friends' funerals until all were dead. Of the 15 deaths in the eight days four were in one house and two each in three others. All were reported to the coroner as "smashed deaths."

Many Workmen Killed.

Santiago, Chile, Oct. 11.—One hundred workmen were killed by the fall of walls in the course of erection for an extension of the Chacabuco mines in this city. Up to the present 16 corpses and 40 wounded have been recovered from the ruins. The fire brigade has been called out to assist in the removal of the dead and wounded. The walls which were constructed of iron and cement, had reached a height of four stories. There is much indignation against the architect who planned and had charge of the work.

Kelly Sentenced.

St. Louis, Oct. 13.—Charles C. Kelly, former speaker of the lower house of the municipal assembly, and Charles A. Riddle, a former member of that body, were sentenced to terms in the penitentiary for connection with the Sulphur bribery case. Kelly was given two years for perjury and Gutkele two years for bribery.

Residence Dynastized.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 17.—A telephone message from Indianapolis, Ind., reports that the residence of Thomas McCoy, president of the defunct McCoy bank, against whom indictments were recently returned for alleged complicity in the wrecking of the bank, has been dynamited and totally destroyed.

Italy's Political Situation.

Rome, Oct. 18.—At a meeting of the council of ministers, Premier Timolli informed his colleagues of the political situation in Italy and drew up the basis of a report to be presented to King Victor Emmanuel proposing the dissolution of the chamber of deputies and a general election.

For Trial Trip.

New York, Oct. 17.—The new 14,000-ton armored cruiser Ulysses arrived in port from Philadelphia. She is on trial, "but let's not talk about it." That's all over, mother, said I. "I've got to be absolutely different worlds."

"No, you don't, mother," said Mrs. Buckley. "She's just a good, natural, choice of a horsewhipping or something worse." Chapman killed Videlto during the quarrel that followed.

WHALE.

Deaths News of the safety of Amundsen's Arctic Expedition.

Dundee, Scotland, Oct. 12.—A whale returning from Davis strait brings news of the safety of Capt. A. Amundsen's Arctic expedition, which left Christiania June 17, 1903. Captain Amundsen's expedition has been described as having for its purpose a task of the highest importance in the domain of terrestrial magnetism. The plan was to go first to King William Land, on the east coast of Greenland, and thence proceed to Bering strait. If the plan should be carried out it would take the expedition almost directly across the north pole. The vessel on which the expedition sailed was the Gjosa, 46 tons, yacht rigged, and having an auxiliary petroleum engine, and she was equipped for four years' stay in the Arctic regions.

Drowned Bathing.

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 10.—Miss Besse Winkler of Clarksville, W. Va., niece of the late William L. Wilson, former postmaster general and afterward president of Washington and Lee university, was drowned while bathing at Virginia Beach. Her body was recovered. Miss Mary Wilson of Charles town, W. Va., daughter of the former postmaster general; Miss Mary M. Simpson of Buchanan, Va.; Miss Ella Dillon of Indian Rock, Va., and Miss Louise Latimer of Washington, sister of Lieutenant Julian L. Latimer, United States navy, were rescued by United States life-savers and are in a serious condition at the Princess Anne hotel, but will recover. The party went into the surf accompanied by E. Stormont, a resident of the beach. He was teaching them to float, and before he was aware of it several of the young women had drifted beyond their depth.

Battleship Ohio.

San Francisco, Oct. 10.—The ceremony of raising the flag over the new battleship Ohio, placing the vessel in commission, was enacted on the deck of the big ship. The crew of 200 men from the Mare Island navy yard presented a fine appearance in broad new uniforms when they were lined up to hear Captain Logan read the order designating him as their commanding officer. The battleflag given to the ship by the Ohio society was then raised. The music band played and officers and crew stood at salute until the banding, drawn slowly up, had reached the masthead.

Barber Used Dull Clippers.

Chicago, Oct. 10.—Because he was using a pair of dull clippers, Charles Alexander was killed here by James Thomas, the man whose hair was being cut. When Thomas complained that the clippers Alexander used were dull and were pulling his hair instead of cutting it, the barber struck him. In the fight that followed Thomas got possession of the clippers and slashed his antagonist's throat. Alexander died almost instantly, his jugular vein having been severed. Both men were colored. Thomas was once a policeman in Caliro, Ill.

For Municipal Ownership.

Chicago, Oct. 9.—Mayor Harrison served notice on the Chicago Union Traction company to cease operating streetcars in Adams street, the plain, Harrison, Western avenue and Twelfth street. According to Corporation Counsel Tolman the mayor's action is taken in view of efforts of the traction company to prevent a settlement of franchise disputes between the South Side surface lines and the city. The purpose of the mayor, Mr. Tolman says, is to clear the way for a municipal street railway.

Trolley Jumped the Track.

Sprig Valley, Ill., Oct. 10.—Only two out of 40 passengers escaped in injury when an Illinois Valley electric railway car jumped the track on a sharp curve at Webster Park. Motorist James Hall sustained several broken ribs, while Conductor R. B. Houck's legs and arms were broken and his mouth entered by glass. The passengers were not seriously hurt. The car was demolished, turning over an embankment. The car was going at high speed.

Carrie Nation Party Guilty.

Wichita, Kan., Oct. 8.—Mrs. Carrie Nation and Mrs. Lucy Wilhoft, Mrs. McHenry and Mrs. Lydia Mountz, who made the recent joint raid, were found guilty here in the city court of the destruction of property. Mrs. Nation was fined $150 and given six months in jail. Mrs. McHenry and Mrs. Wilhoft were fined $15 each, and Mrs. Mountz was fined $50. They gave notice of appeal.

Irrigation Plant Finished.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 7.—The Union Pacific railroad has put in a special round trip rate from Missouri river port to Shoshone and Parma, Idaho for the opening of the Twin Falls irrigation, which will be thrown open to the public on Oct. 20. The reservation contains 270,000 acres and has been placed under irrigation by the Carey act. About 100,000 acres will be opened at this time.

Hold-Up Men Get Life Sentences.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—Four hold-up men were sentenced to the state penitentiary for life. This makes eight such convictions and sentences in Chicago within a week. The state's attorney has begun a determined crusade against all street bandits, and in the future life sentences will be asked to all these criminals.

Burial of Postmaster Payne.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 10.—The remains of Postmaster General Henry Clay Payne were laid to rest in Forest Home cemetery in this city. It is estimated that 25,000 persons viewed the remains at the City hall before they were removed to All Saints cathedral.

Avenged of an Insult.

Augusta, Ga., Oct. 15.—H. Videlto, a prominent merchant, was shot and killed by H. D. Chapman for an alleged insult to his wife. A negro servant girl of Chapman's had represented to Videlto that her mistress was enamored of him and, and repeatedly brought him fictitious messages, which he returned. Emboldened by their repetition, he spoke to Mrs. Chapman, who rebuffed him forthright. He then apologized and explained why he had dared address her. When she told her husband of the occurrence he went to Videlto's store and offered him the
